SENATE DEMOCRATS LAUNCH BROADSIDE

SENATOR HARRISON LEADER IN ATTACK ON REPUBLICANS

Claims That Administration Has Violated Pledges—Accuses the President of Inviting Lobbyists to Conference—Senator
Williams Says They Have Mixed the Babies

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 14.—Senate Democrats today launched a broadside against Republican claims of achievements during the first three months of President Harding's administration. Led by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who held the floor for more than an hour, the movement bore all the aspects of a concerted attempt to precipitate a general political debate, but the Republicans declined the challenge and made no reply.

On President Harding, Senator Harrison's attack was frontal, as he belabored the Republicans over passage of the emergency tariff bill, which he characterized as an utter violation of party pledges, in its inception and "an admitted failure," in enactment; for their difficulties "in the little job of passing a resolution of peace" with Germany, concerning which he taunted Senators Lodge and Knox, the Republican senate spokesmen on foreign affairs, and for alleged failure to get together with the president to reduce taxation.

President Harding he asserted invited lobbyists for conference to Washington and administration appointments, include those of Governor Bone of Alaska and chairman Lasker of the shipping board, he held up to scorn, winding up with satirical reference to General Sawyer, the president's personal physician.

Speaking from the center of a group of Democratic senators, who pointed his barbs with question and suggestion, he lashed out by name at Republican senators who seemed to be stung into retort.

Only once, Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, interrupted, "because there is so much laughter on the Democratic side, I cannot hear the jokes."

"Strange political acrobatic performances," they are exhibiting Senator Harrison told them, reminding them that the "distinguished senator from Washington, Mr. Poinsett in charge of the naval bill came away from the white house with a gloom on his face, because President Harding could not sustain the Borah resolution for naval disarmament."

"And then, like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky the whole crowd over there," he added, pointing to the Republican ranks, "changed right around."

"You promised to establish peace right off the reel," he told them "yet your simple little resolution is not passed yet. The senate resolution framed by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania supported by your majority leader, Senator Lodge, whose name is a household word, is demolished in the house. They have offered you an insult and it is said the house resolution, not the senate has president Harding's favor."

Mixed the Babies Up
"Yes," chuckled John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, "they have mixed the babies up."

The emergency agricultural tariff which was offered to "raise the cost of everything on the workingman's table," Senator Harrison said, had done no good to the farmer of the country, tho you would not let us take the tariff off the things the farmer has to buy.

Senator Gerry, Democrat of Rhode Island, interrupted to read a statement by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, that taxes might have to be increased.

"Oh, the people will find out sooner or later," Senator Harrison resumed gleefully. "Where are your campaign pledges to reduce taxation and expenses of the government? You are passing the biggest deficiency appropriation bill that have ever gone thru here, with one exception."

Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, supplemented this with the assertion that bills for more clerk hire and for "more jobs" were being put thru.

President Invites Lobbyists
President King, Utah, said something about tariff lobbyists and Senator Harrison said:

"They are swarming here. President Harding invites the lobbyists to come here for conference and they are coming. But I don't blame them so much as I do the Republican leadership which invites them."

"President Harding offered the place of chairman of the shipping board to the head of the Standard Oil company, and to the head of the United States Steel corporation. He waited months and then he turned to a Chicago

PLACES BLAME ON GERMAN ORGANIZED LABOR FOR THE WAR

Gompers in Address Says it Failed at Critical Hour

(By The Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., June 14.—Organized labor could have prevented the world war, President Samuel Gompers declared in an address today before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

"I hold that the organized labor of Germany failed at the critical hour," said the veteran labor leader in responding to addresses of the fraternal delegates from Great Britain and Canada. "It is true," he continued, "that if the labor movement of that country had taken the situation in hand it might have meant the destruction of a few thousand, it might have caused the incarceration of many thousand; but if that had occurred it would have stopped the war."

The failure of men to act when the time has arrived when action is essential is faithlessness to the common cause. I have nothing in my heart that can be intimidated or suggested of feelings of antipathy toward the German people, toward the German labor movement, toward their attempt to conduct a great Republican form of government. It cannot be driven out of the mind of people who have lost young men of their flesh and blood, fallen in defense of this great common cause to maintain some degree of a self-determination in a Democratic form of government.

No Wisdom at Peace Table
"You know that the American labor movement has made its great contribution to the great cause and as one you know also that I have tried to do my full duty in the critical circumstances in which we are all placed and that the peace table wisdom did not prevail. I think that most men who have given the subject thought quite agree with that judgment."

"But it is always hindsight that is so superior to foresight and in the frame of mind in which the people were it is not difficult to understand that they wanted to penalize Germany in some way."

"We know that the representatives of democracies make mistakes for having democracies—but we have the right to make a mistake rather than to yield to the dictation of some emperor, kaiser or king. If we want democracy we must pay the penalties for the mistakes democracies are subject to."

Assumes All Responsibility
Mr. Gompers said that he assumed full responsibility for his remarks regarding the German labor movement and that "no one has been consulted about them either as being in my mind or as my expression."

"We have been with you and with all the allied democratic nations in the war," said Mr. Gompers, addressing the fraternal delegates, "and to the extent that we were in it, made our full contribution. We have not done anything which we find it necessary to boast of and we have no cause to hang our heads in shame."

"The plot of it all was that when the crucial time came there were some of those who had made flamboyant declarations who failed at the crucial hour."

President Gompers' remarks came at the end of one of the most important convention sessions in history, marked by oratory of international character, delivered by the fraternal delegates from Great Britain and Canada.

After reviewing the international labor of the world and the British coal miners' strike, J. H. Thomas, British labor leader, discussed the Irish question when questioned as to what the British labor movement is doing for Irish freedom.

Speaks of British Labor
He declared the British labor movement stands for freedom, for dominion home rule in Ireland if it need be adding:

"The only limitation we put is that we are not going to have Ireland made a menace for submarine warfare. Don't assume, however, that the British labor movement stands for an independent republic."

Warning the workers of America that they cannot solve the Irish question, Mr. Thomas said:

"I was once again, being in their minds the feeling that you can solve their difficulties. They don't understand at all and isn't it a cruel thing for people to merely assume by the passing of a resolution that you can solve this problem of a hundred years."

Take Cognizance of Mexican Oil Situation

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary Hughes informed Chairman Porter of the house foreign affairs committee today that the government had undertaken no official investigation of the condition of Mexican oil fields and that it was not advisable to make public such information as it now possessed, "which might imply an official guarantee."

Responding to a request for a report dealing with declining production and its causes, Mr. Hughes transmitted a letter from Secretary Phelan, a board expert, declaring that the available information was not of the authoritative nature requisite to the formulation of a report to congress and to the public on a question so critical as that of the prospective output of oil in Mexico.

Altho the state department was unable to inform the house regarding the number of wells which had gone dry, Rear Admiral Benson as chairman of the shipping board, forwarded a report by J. A. Phelan, a board expert, declaring that in the forty square mile producing area 63 of the 104 wells had ceased to produce and that salt water was rapidly filling those now in operation. Mr. Phelan stated that "not a new oil structure" had been discovered in Mexico since 1916, "and the proven territory is in fact going into salt water."

Mr. Phelan reported that "the most serious factor in the Mexican situation is that British-owned companies, the largest producers and sellers control some of the best developed territory" and that they were "corresponding to the Mexican political demands to the detriment of Americans."

Referring to the decline in price of Mexican crude petroleum at United Kingdom ports, Mr. Phelan said oil was being offered in the fields at 35 cents a barrel and that this was due to the activity of competing companies to drain the proven fields.

"New straws are being inserted into the pool which can only contain a certain amount of oil," he said, "and the day of total depletion may come at any minute."

The Phelan report which urged oil development in Mexico by the American government discussed the limited producing area and added:

"Stripped of all speculation, Mexico, and the United States to a large extent is depending upon an oil field less than forty square miles half of which is developed a field from which more than 400,000,000 barrels had been taken up to June 1, 1921. As to the amount still left in this field technicians and geologists disagree and prognostications are useless at this time."

In a table on five Mexican fields, the Phelan report declared that of a potential production of 2,675,000 barrels, the output up to November 1 last, had decreased 600,000 barrels and that on June 1 last the decrease amounted to 2,300,000 barrels.

STAY OF EXECUTION IS GRANTED IN CASE OF TWO MURDERERS
Time of Geary's Execution
Changed from June 16
to July 22

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14.—Execution of the death sentence upon Gene Geary was changed from June 17 to July 22 by the supreme court this afternoon, and Carl Wanderer, also under sentence of execution, was given a further stay of execution, that his sanity may be determined. Both men, their lawyers declare, have become insane since they were convicted.

The question as to the right of Gene Geary to have a jury impaneled to determine his sanity was not decided by the court.

The case, however, was advanced on the calendar and will be decided this term, the court ruled. The lawyers for Geary were ordered to file briefs by June 18.

In the Wanderer case, the supreme court denied the petition of State's Attorney Crowe that Judge Joseph David be compelled to vacate the order granting Wanderer a jury trial for sanity.

This, in effect, will give Wanderer the trial as Judge David ordered and will restrain the sheriff of Cook county from executing the sentence of death until after the case is decided.

Gives Tramp Breakfast, Fifty Cents and Drink of Whiskey 11
Years Ago—Is Bequeathed $1,500.

Waukegan, Ill., June 14.—Giving a breakfast, fifty cents and a drink of whiskey to a tramp eleven years ago today resulted in Mrs. Joseph Peddicord, North Chicago, Ill., receiving $1500 from the estate of George Foster Paddock, former millionaire banker of Watertown, N. Y., who lost three fortunes, finally inheriting a brother's estate.

When Paddock died last September, relatives attempted to prove him insane after he had willed his estate to his nephew, Frank S. Paddock of Watertown, but failed. The wiping out by fire of an eastern city where many held policies in his company took one of Paddock's fortunes and a banking venture took another.

BIG TIM MURPHY BEING HELD IN $100,000 BOND

Well Known Labor Leader Denies He Made Confession

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 14.—Timothy D. (Big Tim) Murphy, labor leader and former member of the legislature, who was named in two alleged confessions today as the leader in the $350,000 Dearborn Station mail robbery on April 6 last, was held in jail tonight in default of $100,000 bonds.

Vincenzo Cosmano, Murphy's lieutenant, also was being held his bonds having been fixed at $75,000 which he was unable to furnish.

The two were sent to different jails, Murphy being held at Joliet and Cosmano at Waukegan. Others being held by the police were Edward Geirun, Murphy's chauffeur, Peter and Frank Gusenberg, both under indictment for the robbery, George W. Hecker, mail clerk, Ralph Teter, former government clerk, and Paul Bolanti, a grocer.

At least eleven other arrests were expected soon, according to A. E. Germer, chief postal inspector, who said that the men now sought lived in different states. Altho he asserted that several confessions had been obtained, he refused to tell who excepting Geirun had made admissions.

Recover $112,000
Besides the number of arrests during the day the postal inspectors recovered $112,000 from the home of Murphy's father-in-law and $1,000 from the Bolanti apartment.

According to postal inspectors the robbery was planned between Murphy and Teter. Geirun, they said, acted as chauffeur of the robbers automobile. The robbers played baseball near the railway station until Teter signalled Murphy who, it was alleged, passed the signal on to his companions by tipping his hat.

Murphy, it was said, took no part in the actual robbery, but watched his companions rush across the street, hold up the mail employees and then flee in an automobile with the sack. Murphy was said to have paid Teter $100 before the robbery and $700 afterwards. Murphy and Cosmano it was asserted, received the biggest part of the loot the rest being split up $13,000 in bonds and $1,000 cash going to each man.

Murphy admitted he had received the stolen bonds but declared that a big mistake had been made and that he was holding them to oblige a friend. He denied that he had made any confession and added:

"There are a couple of birds around here who have been singing like Caruso. They know who pulled the Dearborn Station mail robbery. I don't know anything about the job, and Cosmano—he's innocent as a lamb of this thing."

LADDERS ARE NOT SELLING AT PRESENT
Nobody Seems to Want to Get Up
in the World—All Kinds of Ladders Are Being Stored.

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, June 14.—Many established ladder manufacturers "will have to start at the bottom of the ladder again if ladders don't sell pretty soon," O. G. Applegarm of Dubuque, Iowa, secretary of the association of ladder manufacturers told members of the association at their meeting here today.

"In 1917 our prices were much higher than they are now," he said, "and ladders were selling. But now we can't sell them for anything. Rope ladders, fire ladders, step ladders, slide ladders—all are being stored instead of sold."

REPORTS OF INHERITED WEALTH ARE DENIED
HOT SPRINGS, S. D., June 14.—Reports that Elmer Ellsworth Juckett, an employee of a Chicago department store, was heir to $100,000 left him by an uncle, Harry W. Wilson, who died here a few weeks ago, today were declared untrue by immediate members of the Juckett family.

A brother of Juckett, who is in business here refrained from commenting on the report, with the exception of stating that the "supposed uncle is a mythical personage."

LOWDEN SAYS TAXES INCREASING FASTER THAN OUR WEALTH

The Main Cause is Increasing Cost of Our Government and the Number of Agencies Having Authority to Levy Taxes—Tells
of the Reason for Pork Barrel Legislation

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 14.—Taxation is increasing much more rapidly than wealth itself, Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois declared in a speech at the University of Chicago. One prolific cause of rapidly increasing cost of government is to be found in the number of public agencies that have authority to levy taxes, he said.

"There is the federal government, the state government, the local municipal government, and, in some instances, the school board. The taxes levied by anyone may seem insignificant but when all the taxes are totalled they dangerously approach confiscation in many cases."

"What has come to be known as 'pork barrel' legislation is generally condemned. However, whenever it is proposed to expend public money upon any object whatsoever in any community, we find the people of that community as a whole back of the project."

Blame Not With Officials
"Representatives and senators in congress are held responsible for pork barrel legislation. The fact is that severally they are yielding only to the importunities of their own constituents. Everybody is against all pork barrel legislation except that in favor of his own community."

"The farther removed the particular treasury is, the more the people appear to believe they are getting something for nothing when they seek an appropriation. It follows that the local municipality should be required to provide its own revenues for its own needs and should not be given aid by the state."

"Likewise the state should be compelled to provide its own funds for purely state needs. Lastly the federal government should appropriate only for those interests which are purely of national concern and clearly within the purposes for which the federal union was established. No more expensive phrases have been invented in recent years than 'state aid' and 'federal aid.'"

Is Usurping Powers
"There is scarcely a domain in the field of government properly belonging to the municipality or the state which the federal government is not seeking to invade by the use of the special privilege, 'federal aid.' Education, public health, private employment are a few instances which readily come to mind. This rapid extension of federal administration not only means greatly increased expenses because of duplication of efforts, but it means the gradual breaking down of local self-government in America."

"Let the proportion of public employees continue to increase as rapidly as they have in late years and we will within a reasonable time witness this phenomenon: our population divided into two classes; those holding public offices, still a minority, it is true, and others working to support the minority in office. From that condition to the soviet form of government it is but a single step."

Mr. Lowden received from the university the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, as did James Rowland Angell, president elect of Yale University and formerly dean of the University of Chicago.

Paris, Ill., June 14.—The Edgar county board of supervisors today appropriated $600 to mark the route traveled by Abraham Lincoln to the Edgar county while riding the circuit in the days he practiced law in eastern Illinois.

The passage of the law fixing one primary month instead of two in Illinois may occasionally work a hardship, but in the great majority of instances a saving will be effected for the public.

Notwithstanding the objections of the coal producers some national law for control of the industry seems now very probable. No drastic measure is proposed, but the vesting of authority in certain cabinet officers to make investigations with reference to costs in the industry. If the coal men are sincere in maintaining that they only want fair profit, taking into account their investment and their hazards in business, they shouldn't object at all to this much of government supervision.

Those who have given to the Chinese famine relief fund need feel no regret, now that the good news has come that the campaign for funds can be abandoned. The change has come about because a favorable season in China has made good crops almost certain. All of the money which has been given was urgently needed and so the spirit of generosity shown by the American people was by no means in vain.

Now the Orthwein murder trial has the center of the stage in the Chicago newspapers. The details are about as suggestive as in some sensational divorce suits and it will be helpful for the reading public if the trial is of short duration and the defendant gets the punishment that is so richly merited. But then, this defendant is a woman and they are not in the habit of convicting women in the courts of Cook county.

The bill introduced by Senator Wheeler amending the civil service law of the state makes some radical changes, but if you look at the whole question with fairness you will find that some changes will help the public service. It is no secret that a good many of the original friends of civil service have found that in some instances it has tended toward inefficiency and insubordination. The cry of "spoils" will of course be raised, but after all efficient public service is the real test for an employee.

So many amendments were attached to the Lantz bill in the house yesterday that their weight brought about the natural death of the measure so far as its original intent is concerned. All of which goes to show that there is more than one way of killing a legislative bill. It was noticeable in the roll call that those who opposed the bill had a working majority of about 10 votes.

Still another step has been taken to improve the condition of the farmer. The eastern bankers have agreed to furnish half the money for a suggested $50,000,000 pool designed for the aid of the livestock industry. No doubt other bankers will quickly subscribe the remaining 50 per cent. With all the sympathy and all the measures that are being used to help the farmer, and stock man, his estate should speedily be improved.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED BY JACKSONVILLE ELKS

Impressive Exercises Carried Out in New Home—Address by Dr. Post.

Jacksonville Lodge, No. 682, B. P. O. E., observed flag day with appropriate exercises in the new home Tuesday evening.

There was a large attendance of members and friends and the exercises proved most interesting. The program opened with the regular flag day ritual conducted by the officers of the lodge with Paul Moriarty as Exalted Ruler. The invocation was pronounced by the chaplain William Robinson.

Keith Montgomery read the history of the flag and then Dr. R. O. Post delivered an address on the flag and the meaning of Flag Day.

Dr. Post during his residence in Conneaut, Ohio, was made a life member of the lodge of that city. He spoke highly of the work of the order during the world war. In Conneaut the lodge turned over the home to the Red Cross.

Following the formal program the members and their friends spent the remainder of the evening in dancing, music being furnished by Large's orchestra.

GREAT FERRIS WHEEL BEING TORN DOWN

Paris, June 12.—The great ferris wheel, a duplicate of the great attraction of the Chicago exposition, erected near the Champ de Mars for the exposition of 1900, and long since condemned to destruction, now stands like a partially dislocated skeleton in a partially dilapidated state.

It is proposed by a system of folding that cost nearly $50,000 and, after an expense to the demolisher of the equivalent of nearly $100,000 more in labor and lumber, promises to remain indefinitely in its present partial dilapidation.

The contractor who invested the large sums for dismantling it expected to make a profit out of the old steel, but finding no buyers is willing to stand his loss and let anyone else try.

JOHN G. EMERY IS NEW COMMANDER OF AMERICAN LEGION

Is Selected to Take Place Made Vacant by Galbraith's Death

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 14. John G. Emery, elected national commander of the American Legion here today, in his first statement issued tonight, advocated a continuance by the legion of its program of instilling in the hearts of former service men and women a sense of "individual obligation to community, state and nation."

With this sense of responsibility before them, he said, the night mare of destructive radicalism and disintegrating factional strife which has assailed so many nations since the war has been spared our country.

Mr. Emery said the Legion would continue its fight in behalf of disabled veterans of the world war until every man is generously provided for.

Tribute to Galbraith
The new national commander paid tribute to the late Colonel Galbraith, his predecessor, in the statement which follows in part:

"The circumstances under which I assume the office of national commander of the American Legion weigh my heart with grief. My most ardent desire would have been to have continued as a humble lieutenant in the service of the great leader who was taken from us by an inexplicable act of God. My one aspiration is to bear those responsibilities as he would have borne them for the greater glory of our country."

"If I were asked to state what I believe to be the greatest service the American Legion has rendered our country, I would say that it has been carrying out by the Legion of the mandate of its constitution which has instilled in the hearts of former service men and women a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation."

"With the national relaxation from our tremendous war efforts there came a real danger from an excess of interest in private and personal affairs and a corresponding diminution of interest in public affairs on the part of the average citizen. The first aim of the American Legion was to meet this danger by rekindling and continuing the citizen's interest in his community, his state and his country."

"With the sense of responsibility to community, state and nation before them in peace and war, the night made of destructive radicalism and disintegrating factional strife which has assailed so many nations since the war has been spared our country."

Mission of the Legion
"It is the determination of the American Legion to go forward with its fight, emphasizing always a more vivid conception by each citizen of his personal obligation of service to his country."

"The American Legion will continue its fight for the wounded and disabled until every man who gave his health and strength in the service of his country is adequately and generously provided for. The claim of these men have precedence over all other considerations of the American Legion."

"With the legislation basically necessary for the relief of the physically disabled passed by congress, the American Legion will address its full energies to the task of helping those financially disabled by reason of the military or naval service. The five fold adjusted compensation bill now before the congress represents the payment of a just and acknowledged obligation the country owes to those who have served it. It is a debt acknowledged by the people wherever the matter has been the subject of popular vote. It is a debt the American Legion with every resource at its command will work to have repaid by action of the present congress. It is vital to our security that the government show that in return for individual loyalty bravely given

WILL PRESENT BIG PAGEANT OF PROGRESS

Chicago Preparing to Give Gi-gantic Business Exposition —
Municipal Pier to Be Used.

Chicago, June 14.—Chicago is preparing to offer to the country
its Pageant of Progress. Exposition, to be held here July 30 to August 14.

The scope of the exposition will be the city's $5,000,000 Municipal Pier, extending 3,000 feet into Lake Michigan.

The exposition is primarily a great business show, but combined with the business and industrial display will be a gigantic
amusement and entertainment program. The exposition will be the greatest event of its kind that
this city has seen since the Chicago World's Fair.

Two great sheds, each 2240
feet long and 67 feet wide, on the upper deck of the Municipal Pier,
will house the main portion of the exposition. Here will be placed
the exhibits of furniture, shoes,
furs, automobiles, both passenger
cars and trucks, food products,
clothing, building materials, office appliances, paper products,
musical instruments, electrical
devices, machinery, chemicals,
dry goods, beverages and other products.

Twenty-one republics of Central and South America, will have exhibits of the products which they expect to export to the United States.

Mayor Thompson, president of the exposition, a corporation not for profit, insisted from the first
that the exposition be "Seventy-five per cent business and twenty-five per cent confetti."

The naval reserve of six lake
states will hold their annual summer practice maneuvers off the Municipal Pier during the exposition. Five gunboats, three destroyers, and a whole fleet of sub-

chasers and smaller craft, with full crews of members of the United States Naval Reserve, will participate in sham battles and naval evolutions.

At a song festival more than 700 church choirs and singing societies, including in their membership more than 10,000 trained singers, will take part. At night 1,000 singers will be placed on each gunboat. The gunboats will be ranged in a circle off the pier,
and on a barge in the center of
the circle will be a band of 200
pieces, directed by a leader with an electrical lighted baton, which will accompany the great chorus
in popular and patriotic songs, in which the entire crowd on the pier will be invited to join.

Miss Carrie Mackness and Miss Pauline McMurphy are visiting in Springfield for a few days.

Dr. J. M. Swope of Arenzville
was a business caller here yesterday.

construction guards against

MANY STATES PASS SOLDIER BONUS BILLS

Only Three of Thirteen Middle West States Fail to Pass Favorable Legislation for Soldiers' Bonus.

Chicago. Only three out of thirteen middle western states
have failed to pass soldier bonus
legislation or have no such legislation pending. It is shown by a survey just completed. Every state has passed a soldier relief
measure of some sort or other,
the survey shows.

North Dakota has voted one of the most liberal of bonuses for its
ex-service men and women; $25
for each month spent as a member of the government forces. To pay this bonus within a reasonable time the last assembly voted
to raise the tax from one-half mill
as previously set, to one mill. At the same time it removed such inhibition as had been prescribed
by a previous assembly as to the disposition of bonus money on the part of the recipient.

Another of the northern border
states, Wisconsin, has enacted extremely liberal bonus measures,
permitting the ex-soldier to choose between a cash bonus and a 4-year course of study at an accredited school the latter choice
carrying with it a stipend of $30
a month. An amendment to this educational bonus act is now
pending, enabling a beneficiary
under the cash bonus act to participate in the educational bonus
by discounting cash payments already received against those receivable under the educational bonus. Proposed amendments to permit allied soldiers living in Wisconsin, and citizens of Wisconsin who served with the allied forces, to share in the benefits of this legislation were defeated.

Minnesota is the third border
state now paying a soldier bonus.
Incidentally, to pay it, however,
the legislature at its last session
had to raise the interest rate on the bonds previously floated, because these were not marketable
at the old rate in competition with high-interest bearing industrial securities. Legislation to permit
allies and conscientious objectors
who waived their exemptions, to share in the bonus distribution, is now pending.

The view has been advanced
that the states bordering on Canada were influenced toward generous and prompt bonus settlements through the enactment of similar legislation in Canada.
Other students of the bonus situation point to this as merely further evidence of the inherent
"progressiveness" of these states.
Four states have passed bonus
measures subject to the approval
of the voters at the next general election, and of these Kansas has authorized the most generous distribution, a reward of one dollar
a day for each day spent in the service. A bond issue of $25,-

000,000 is needed to meet this disbursement.

Ohio has authorized payment
of $10 for each month spent in the service, contingent upon consent of the voters. The proviso
was in this case expressly demanded by the American Legion which it would accept no bonus on which the people themselves had
not put their seal of approval.
Maximum payment in Ohio is $250, to be issued in a lump sum.
Should the recipient prefer he
may assign the money to a sinking fund to maintain hospitals
for veterans. The bond issue was $25,000,000.

In Iowa $60 a day for each day
in the service, with $350 as maximum, was provided, subject to a vote of the people, thru a bond issue of $22,000,000. An effort to include the Student Army Training Corps within the scope of the act met defeat.

The voters of Missouri will also have a chance to pass or reject a bonus act permitting sale of $15,- 000,000 block of state bonds. The bonus would be at the rate of $10
for each month spent in the service.

Three states, Michigan, Illinois
and Indiana, have bonus features
under consideration. In Michigan the governor has promised to call a special session of the legislature this fall to translate into law the will of the voters, expressed by a majority of some 200,000
votes, directing a soldier bonus
thru a $30,000,000 bond issue.
Both men and women are to share
in the Michigan dividend, at the rate of $15 for each month of service prior to August 1, 1919,
with a maximum payment of 28
months.

Fifty-five millions of dollars
will be required to carry out the provisions of the bonus bill, now
in the Illinois house. Fifteen dollars for each month of service and a maximum of $300 are specified.
A referendum is required.

Similar is the Indiana bill,
passed contingent upon popular
referendum to pay $10 for each month of service. No action has resulted in the senate.

Oklahoma, Arkansas and Nebraska have voted down all attempts at bonus legislation. Nevertheless these states have passed immediate relief measures. In Oklahoma the American Legion
has taken a decided stand against
the passage of bonus legislation.
Instead, Oklahoma had been induced to appropriate $30,000 to supply necessities to sick and temporarily disabled veterans or their wives, mothers, fathers or children. A general hospital for all disabled ex-servicemen, provided
for in a bill which successfully emerged from the senate, is being held up in the house pending the federal government's announcement of its hospital allotments.

Arkansas has ceded to the federal government Fort Logan H.
Roots, opposite Little Rock, as a hospital for disabled veterans,
subject to the approval of congress.

The Nebraska lower house has approved a bill fathered by the American Legion to set aside $2,- 000,000 from which interest
would be used in temporarily alleviating distress among disabled
veterans, their widows and orphans. A bill providing for the sale of 1,700,000 acres of school
lands to assist veterans in acquiring homes, introduced at the institution of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was killed.

DETROIT, Mich., June 14.—

recoil of a gun in her hands. The admission by Howell authorities after a perfunctory inquiry

NO GREAT INCREASE IN EXTRA BASE HITTING

American Shows Increase in Number of Home Runs and Singles
—Doubles and Triples Have Fallen Off.

Chicago, June 11.—The popular belief that there has been a tremendous increase in extra base
hitting in both major leagues in the past five or six years is not entirely borne out in the records
for the batters of each league.

While the American League
has shown a decided increase
since 1914 in the number of home
runs and singles, with a resultant boost to the combined averages
of the players, in the National league there is little difference
between 1914 and 1920 marks
and the present batting in both
leagues will result in lower figures than last year is continued
thruout the season.

In triples and doubles, neither
league last year was far in advance of the 1914 marks and indications are that this season
both circuits will fall under the 1914 records, a year when such great pitchers as Christy Mathew-
son, Joe Wood, Ed Reulbach, Walter Johnson, George Foster,
Bill James (Boston), Babe Adams and Harry Sallee were at their best and sending the bat-
ters back to the bench in one,
two, three order.

The prevalent belief that slugging has increased probably has been brought about by the over-
present record of Babe Ruth and is borne out somewhat by the number of home runs being hit by other batters. In 1914 the American league hitters knocked out 148 home runs. In 1920 they gathered 370 circuit drives, the
New York club, aided by Ruth's 54, getting 115. Thus far this season 99 homers have been hit
and a continuation of that ratio
would result in about 395 for the season—75 less than last year,
but twice as many as in 1914.

In the National league, the home run record shows little increase over 1914, despite the fact that the senior circuit batters are overcoming the American's advantage of Babe Ruth and are running even with the rival major league in four base drives. In 1914, 266 homers were hit and there were five less last year.
With the season one third over,
there have been 97 home runs
which is at the rate of about 290
for the season—only 24 more than in 1914 when pitchers were stars and sluggers few.

In team batting the figures
tend to justify the belief in increased hitting—particularly in

DON'T DELAY

Don't neglect a cough or
a cold until it runs into serious
sickness. Pneumonia and consumption often have their beginning in a slight cold. At the first indication of a cold, use

Foley's Honey and Tar.

Mrs. D. E. Parmeter, Childs, Pa., writes
this: "I am writing to tell you of the good Foley's Honey and Tar has done me and I feel much better since I am taking it. I have tried many cough medicines but none relieve my cough and irritation in the throat as much as
your medicine and I will be pleased to recommend it to my friends and tell them of the good it has done me."

the American league. The American leaguers hit for a combined
average of .247 in 1914, .283 last year and are hitting at the rate of .298 thus far this season. The increase in the National league is not so great. The combined 1914
average was .250, last year it was
.269 and this year it is .266—
three points less than last season.

The increase in team batting
and in the number of hits is reflected in the number of .300 hitters, the number being three times as large in 1920 in the American league as in 1914 and 25 per cent larger in the national league.

But, the number of triples and
doubles being made does not justify a belief that hitting is much greater than in 1914. In each league only a few more doubles

and triples were hit in 1920 than
in 1914 and indications are that this season both leagues will fall below the 1914 mark.

Thus figures show more home
runs and more singles, but fewer
extra base hits on the whole.

Many reasons for the increase
in home run hitting are advanced.
Players blame it on a faster ball,
while the manufacturers insist
the ball is not any faster. Manager Johnny Evers of the Chicago
club says the fast ball is crippling infielders and ruining the game. Others say the pitchers are not of the caliber of those of a few years ago and President John Heydler of the National league declares that the home run hitting is being brought about by the desire of every batter to become a Babe Ruth.

ILLINOIS SOCIETIES
HOLD LOVE FEASTS

Societies Hold Events Tuesday—Many Former Members are in Attendance.

Yesterday was the day in the Illinois college commencement Calendar, marked by society reunions and love feasts. Each of the three girls' societies and the two men's organization held annual love feasts.

It was estimated that over two hundred society members met last evening at these banquets.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Sigma Phi Epsilon society held its love feast in the banquet room of the Peacock Inn. Yellow and white, the society colors were effectively used in decoration. Covers were laid for forty guests and an excellent five course banquet was served. Novelty programs of yellow engraved with the society seal served as place cards also.

Miss Bernice Wheeler, '19, served admirably as toastmistress and introduced the following toasts:

Helen Jones '22.

"Of good service done, is there aught,—Allice Lucile Spann, '24.

"As a wit, if not first, in the very first line, Mrs. T. P. Carter.

"Fond Memory brings the light of other days around me," Elaine Thebaud, '21.

"I am a part of all that I have met," Lucile Baker, '21.

Memory is life's precious dead, Frances Strawn, '22.

Come with the strength of morn.

Delightful music was furnished by the following:

Piano—Ester Duncan.

Violin—Mabel Forrester.

Piano—Laura Jones.

Voice—Miss Edna Hackett.

Agora Society.

The Agora society held a love feast at Westminster church at 7 o'clock. The decorations were very pretty with the society colors, old rose and grey, and spring flowers.

After a delicious banquet had been served Mrs. Francis I. Moats was introduced as toastmistress. The toast began with the letters spelling the name Agoras.

A. As the years go by may the Agora tie ever bind us more closely.—Irene White.

G. Green and good freshmen we join your little band and we must say as we part you're the finest in the land—Mary Cummings.

O. Opportunities are plentiful in college you will find. Agora's opportunity for friendship is the best one of the kind.—Miss McQuiston.

R. Rumors of war, rumors of peace. Rumors of good things may they not cease.—Mabel Ruyle.

A. Association of college days. Come to mind in future days and brighten all our cloudy days by reminding us of Agora days.—Hazel McCormack.

S. Sad it is to say goodbye to our seniors as we part but it is not wholly sad for sweet memories will fill each heart.—Sylvia Taylor.

Mrs. Moats also introduced two of the honorary members, Miss Isold Smith, who interpreted the ideals of Agora, as understood by the honorary members, to be independence, scholarship and kindness; Mrs. Thomas W. Smith presented to the society on behalf of the honorary members a gift of forty dollars to be used in making the society room more cozy. The society was also presented with a memory book, the gift of the senior members, who were themselves presented by the society with Beecher souvenirs.

Gamma Delta.

The Gamma Delta love feast was held at the Colonial Inn at 7:30.

An excellent menu was served after which a program of toast and music was given. Miss Lois Daniels acted as toastmistress introducing the following numbers:

"But what am I, an infant crying for the right,"—Grace Danforth.

"Music in my heart I love long after it was heard no more,"—Louise Struck.

Violin—Romance—Wienawski.

Vogel als prophet—Schumann.

Concert dance—Beethoven-Seiss—Eloise Capps.

"Dost thou love life? Do not squander time, that is the stuff that life is made of,"—Mrs. Perry Thompson.

If you can't have what you wish, wish for what you can have.—Catherine Parker.

"I dreamt I dwelt in marble halls,"—Allice Bray.

"Should Auld Acquaintances be Forgot and Never Brought to Mind,"—Marie Candee.

Piano—Liebes-trend—Kreiser.

Juba dance—Dett.—Virginia Bullard.

The committee in charge of the banquet had as chairman Ellen McCurley and included Alma Schuman and Mary Alice Pierce.

HIS FLAG

The flag was old and faded and worn

But he brought it forth one day For that was the flag he had proudly borne

When he went to battle away

He loved that flag, he loved it well

And he tenderly kissed its stars

For that old flag his story could tell

And where he received his scars

And all thru the years that banner he holds

Since the day our land was free, Has carried the light in its shining folds

Of our glorious liberty

And the crippled soldier told its stars

With its folds to his bosom pressed,

That never a hand of traitor mars

While the blood flows in his breast.

Then he flung it out to the morning sun

That its folds might rise and fall

To tell the story of victories won

With its loved stars over all.—Susie A. Hughes.

Last evening he was resting easily and the doctor stated that no bones were broken and that there was no abrasion and that the bruises while painful would readily heal. He said that Clark would be back at work in a few days.

One of the features of the evening was the presentation of a large framed picture of the founders of the society. The pictures were collected by A. C. DeMary, and H. H. Bancroft is responsible for having them framed. This will preserve for future generations of Sigma likeliness of the men who began in 1843 to lay the foundations for the society. Ensley Moore presented the picture when he made his talk on "The Sig Founders."

The thirteen men who founded the society were:
Rev. William Ireland.
Rev. Thomas K. Beecher.
Newton Bateman.
Dr. Lyons.
William E. Catline.
Rev. George W. Harlan.
Charles Tillson.
Henry Wing.
Samuel Willard.
Barbour Lewis.

REVIVALS DRAW LARGE AUDIENCES
The revival services on South Main street continue to draw good crowds. Last evening the tent was well filled and the service was one of the best of the series.

A quartet composed of Rev. Mr. Linton, Mrs. Linton, Miss Clara Ranson and M. L. Abbott sang, "It Pays to Serve Jesus."

The scripture was read by Rev. Samuel Graves. The speaker took for his text, Isaiah 35-6, "All we like sheep have gone astray." And his sermon was a development of the theme that people have a tendency to leave the path of righteousness and wander into sin.

There were eight conversions.

Rev. H. H. DeWitt as president of the advisory board made an inspiring address as he presented the diplomas, and suggested that graduation means not the completion but the beginning of the most worth while work.

A letter of congratulation was read from S. W. Nichols, who expressed his regret at being unable to attend. The program was as follows:

I. C. TRUSTEES HELD THE ANNUAL MEETING

Various Matters Related to Business of the College Given Consideration.

The fact that Sturtevant hall of Illinois college was badly damaged by fire more than a year ago, is to be rectified was made known following the annual meeting of the board of trustees of Illinois college held Tuesday morning. The trustees met at the Ayers National bank building with Thomas Worthington serving as chairman in the absence of Andrew Russell, who was detained in Springfield.

Among the non-resident members of the board present were Frank Elliott, vice president Harris Trust Savings Bank, Chicago; George W. Govett, Quincy; H. J. Dunbaugh of Isham, Lincoln & Beall, attorneys, Chicago and John J. Bergen of Virginia.

The annual report of President C. H. Rammelkamp was presented and conditions prevailing at the college were found to be more than ever satisfactory. The number of enrollments the past year was the largest in the history of the institution, totaling 523.

The financial report was equally satisfactory, showing substantial additions during the year to the endowment fund. Members of the board were entertained at luncheon at the Peacock Inn by President Rammelkamp following the morning session.

In the afternoon members of the board spent several further hours in the consideration of college business. It will be noted that this year the meeting of the trustees was held on Tuesday instead of following the custom of former years when the board met on commencement day preceding the graduation exercises. It was found that the time prior to the commencement exercises was not sufficient for the consideration of the various matters demanding attention.

The Crowning Glory

To be a mother is the crowning glory of the female sex. To have an intelligent mother brings the accomplishment nearer. The blessing that is intended to be.

But to be a sensible one the future physical welfare of the child is assured.

Between 12 and 18 the future health of the girl is established.

During this period the sensible mother keeps a watchful eye on any ill or unnatural condition affecting the health of the girl, and takes into her confidence the daughter, and reveals to her the wonderful and important, yet natural conditions surrounding her sex.

The physician is consulted as to the significance of any unintelligible deformity as to function or anatomy and both put in condition that Nature would be pleased.

Failure to carry out this plan is costing thousands of young women years of suffering and unhappiness when a slight operation or medical attention might convert the above outlook into a future of joy and happiness.

More than 18,000 divorces were granted in this country last year (about 3 per minute). It is estimated that two-thirds or 12,000 were due to dispositions, mental and physical, as a result of neglecting the girl as above stated.

Health is wealth. Start the girl out in life well endowed with a good body and mind and you need not fear for her future.

Get this thought well established in your mind—That at the NEW HOME SANITARIUM the help and directions to reach this happy state are yours.

THE AMERICAN LEGION NEWS SERVICE

"For Sale—My body and soul for a chance to work. I was wounded in France." The advertisement in a local newspaper brought the population of Louisville, Ky., face to face with the plight of disabled and unemployed veterans. The soldier, Fred C. Rainer, of Birmingham, Ala., twice wounded while serving with the Rainbow Division, was taken in charge by his comrades in Louisville posts of the American Legion. He was formerly a deputy sheriff in Birmingham.

The American Legion will assist in obtaining recruits for the Citizens' Military Training camps to be operated this summer by the war department, according to a resolution adopted by the Military Policy Committee of the service men's organization.

Creation of sentiment to cause the holding of the annual motor speedway race on July 4 instead of on Memorial Day has been started by posts of the American Legion in Indianapolis, Ind., where the international automobile classic was staged on May 30. More than 130,000 persons from all parts of the United States attended the race on a day, which the Legion sets forth, should be observed in a reverent and decorous manner.

Seventeen posts of the American Legion and thirty-three units of its Women's Auxiliary were chartered during the week ended June 4, Legion national headquarters has announced.

Learning that blood transfusion was necessary to save the life of Weldon A. Crawford, veteran of the world war, struck and seriously wounded by a street car in Jackson, Miss., the local post of the American Legion asked for volunteers from its membership. Within a few hours twelve Legionnaires had responded and the transfusion was completed. The veteran will recover.

"Your presence is desired at police headquarters."

Former soldiers of Tampa, Fla., who received this notice signed by the chief of police lost no time in reporting. The chief, an enthusiastic member of the local post of the American Legion, employed this method to impress upon the ex-service men the needs of their post. More than 200 veterans were locked up in an office before the chief explained himself.

Citizens of Robinson, Ill., are rallying to the support of the American Legion post there which is endeavoring to rescue a deserted cemetery near the city. The Legion men found that three soldiers of the War of 1812 were buried in the abandoned plot. Markers will be placed over the graves of the long-forgotten veterans and the cemetery reclaimed from the wilderness surrounding it for many years.

The only wearer of the Congressional Medal of Honor in Oklahoma, is Harold L. Turner, adjutant of Porter post of the American Legion in Seminole. Mr. Turner captured fifty Germans and four machine guns by charging the nest single handed when his platoon had been reduced to four men near St. Etienne on October 8, 1918, according to his official citation. He will be a guest of honor at the third annual national convention of the Legion at Kansas City next fall.

The American flag is henceforth to be draped about the caissons of all ex-service men dying in hospitals in this country, as a result of conferences between members of the American Legion's national legislative committee and the surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service and Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. A treasury department ruling has now been obtained whereby the purchase of a flag for this purpose will be permitted as a part of the funeral

"The Spirit of the American Doughboy" has been selected from a display of 147 statues by the National Memorial committee of the American Legion for use in the Legion's memorial to the victims of the Armistice Day attack by I. W. W.'s in Centralia, Wash., as well as in the Legion's National Memorial. The statue is that of a doughboy breaking through barb wire. In one hand is a hand grenade and in the other a rifle with a bayonet affixed. Fifty-two ex-service men posed for the sculptor, E. M. Viquesney, of Americus, Ga. After the statue had been partially completed it was subjected to an examination of hundreds of former infantrymen with a view of making the artist's conception an accurate reproduction of an American soldier in action.

Rows of white wooden crosses, replicas of those which mark the soil of France where American soldiers sleep, used in Madison, Wis., to advertise a Chinese relief drive, were removed upon the representations of the local American Legion post. The Legion members demonstrated their sympathy for the starving Chinese by subscribing to a fund, but they remonstrated against cheapening the sentiment attached to their buddies' graves.

GRIT MASON HAD TO STICK IT OUT

"Every time I go out on a run now, I feel thankful to Tanlac for what I've got me on the job," said William W. Mason, 1924 McClellan St., Philadelphia, for the past nine years a motorman for the Rapid Transit Co.

"I had stomach trouble in a bad form for three years and was going down hill fast. Nothing I ate ever agreed with me and after every meal I was sure to have heart burn, dizziness and sometimes awful cramps. I got in such a nervous condition my hand shook like a man with the palsy and at nights my sleep was broken and restless. In the mornings I felt so miserable I used to dread the time to come for me to take out my car and it took every ounce of grit I could muster to stick it out until quitting time. Finally I got so weak and was so discouraged I was ready to give up."

"This was my condition when I started taking Tanlac and I owe all my present good health to this wonderful medicine and to nothing else. The first thing it did for me was to whet my appetite and I soon found I could eat anything without fear of bad after-effects. It's a fact, four bottles made a new man out of me. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and wake up in the morning feeling fine. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to work whistling like I used to long ago. If people knew Tanlac like I do the clerks in the drug stores couldn't wrap it up fast enough to supply the demand. It's great."

THE INDIANS KNEW

A famous physician stated that more women might find relief from suffering thru taking a medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that thru undergoing surgical operations if they would only take it in time. At the first sign of female weakness, as indicated by headache, dullness, bearing down pains and nervous exhaustion, take this famous remedy of roots and herbs, and avoid the serious consequences of delay.

The Indians and early settlers knew and benefited by Nature's Allies, the roots and herbs of the field. Because Lydia E. Pinkham knew their medicinal value, thousands of women all over the world have been saved from operations, but only such as have taken it in time.—Adv.

church, five miles northeast of White Hall, under the auspices of the Roodhouse post of the American Legion. The discourse was delivered by Rev. Roy March of White Hall, and the interment was in the Ebenezer cemetery, near by, with military honors.

The deceased was a son of the late W. E. Thompson, and was a native of the neighborhood two and one-half miles east of Roodhouse. He was 26 years of age. He was killed on Langley Field near Hampton, Va., on the 8th in making a practice bombing flight in company with Cadet C. A. Bowen of Quitman, Ga. Their plane struck a tree top and became ignited. Three or four bombs being carried in the carriage were detonated, blowing the machine to bits and burning and terribly mauling the bodies of the two aviators. Pieces of the plane were thrown long distances by the explosion, which occurred about a minute after the machine took a straight dive into an oak tree which stands on the edge of the flying field. Efforts had been made by Cadet Thompson, pilot, to extricate his machine from the tree even after flames had broken out from the engine. Both had come to Langley Field only a few weeks before from Kelly Field, Texas. They were considered safe pilots, and had been flying since their arrival in preparation for army-navy bombing experiments to be made later this month.

Cadet Thompson graduated from the Roodhouse high school, and was later employed by the Illinois Steel Bridge Co. at Jacksonville. Early in the war he enlisted in the aviation corps of the army, and was stationed on Scott Field, Belleville. In 1920 he was discharged, but re-enlisted and was sent to flying fields in California and Texas. The following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Robert Carlton, Roodhouse; Ernest Thompson, Roodhouse; Oren Thompson, Atlanta, Kan.; Lloyd Thompson, Beardstown; Charles Thompson, Murrayville.

News Notes
The first word from Richard P. Vedder of Pueblo, Colo., reached here Saturday in the form of a short note, in which he stated that he was safe and carried greetings to his mother, Mrs. Nellie Vedder, on her 94th birthday anniversary. This advice brought glad news to the Vedder home on this important occasion. Richard stated that he would write fully a little later. Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Vedder came down from Roodhouse Saturday evening and remained over Sunday.

H. C. Morris returned last week from a visit at Ripley, Brown county, for the first time in fifty-two years. He states that he found a surprising number of friends of early days. Mr. Morris was a potter at Ripley before coming to White Hall sixty years ago.

AVIATOR'S FUNERAL
HELD AT WHITE HALL

Funeral of Adrian C. Edwards Who Died in France was Largest in History of City—Services were Very Impressive.

White Hall, June 13.—All estimates on the attendance at the funeral of Adrian C. Edwards Sunday afternoon exceed the attendance at any funeral ever held here. First estimates placing the attendance have by comparison been growing until the figures must now be placed at 5,000. The funeral oration by Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson carried home the lesson of the hour with lasting conviction. The members of the Green County Bar attended in a body, including Justice Floyd E. Thompson of Springfield and Lewis Eagle of Rock Island, assistant state's attorney, both of whom are former law partners of the deceased.

The funeral arrangements were carried out as published, the pall bearers being Capt. Bates, Lieut. Worcester, Roodhouse; Capt. Burns, Lieut. Hensler, Naval Lieut. Gaston, Carrollton; Lieut. Seacamp, Greenfield. The number of men in uniform runs close to 400, representing the American Legion posts of Roodhouse, Carrollton and Greenfield. All arrangements for the funeral and burial were in the hands of the White Hall post. There were four firing squads of eight each, this being done in order to give each post adequate recognition.

At 2 o'clock the body, escorted by the Roodhouse post, including the Rawlins Concert Band, left the mausoleum in Fernwood cemetery at Roodhouse, and was met at the White Hall limits by the White Hall and visiting posts. There was considerable delay in referring and proceeding to Whiteside Park for the funeral exercises on account of the congestion of automobiles, and it was almost 3 o'clock when the Duncan Sisters began singing "Lead Kindly Light," followed by invocation by Rev. Ben Claire Crow of Roodhouse. The exercises were deeply impressive, and with the concluding song, "Soldiers, Farewell," by the Duncans and the benediction by Rev. Crow, there was another congestion in the formation of the line of march to the White Hall cemetery. There were 200 autos in the funeral procession, and fully that number had preceded the funeral cortege and lined the main roadway through the cemetery, while another like number of cars remained parked about the park grounds on account of the apparent difficulty in moving the traffic to the cemetery. The committee service was attended with salute and taps.

MISS HELEN BLACKBURN
HONORED

Mrs. Sidney Jones' of South Main street has handed the Journal a recent copy of the Denver Post which contains the following:

The Ouray High school debating team, having defeated all of their opponents so far this school season, soon will leave for Boulder, to compete there for the state championship. The Ouray team won the Western Slope title and last night defeated the Lamar debaters, champions of the southeastern section of the state. The members of the Ouray team are Miss Frances Wheeler, Miss Helen Blackburn and Miss Edna Hestwood. George C. Atterberry, superintendent of the Ouray County High school is the coach. The Ouray girls are considered the best "talkers" who ever won the Western Slope championship.

The team lacked but one point of winning the state championship which is surely a good record. Miss Blackburn is a daughter of Leslie Blackburn, formerly of Ebenezer neighborhood and known to so many in this vicinity. The young lady is but sixteen years old and won the scholarship in the Colorado state university. She was also a member of the basketball team which did excellent work.

PUT UP SOME ARROWS

Readers of the Journal will recall a recent statement that the Eli Bridge company had constructed a lot of metal markers calculated to boost Jacksonville by showing the way hither. Yesterday morning W. E. Sullivan, president of the Morgan County Good Roads Association and T. M. Tomlinson took 25 of the arrows and placed them in good positions on the roads between Jacksonville and Moredosa and Bluffs.

Announcement

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"Another reduction has been made in the list price of all types of Ford cars and the Ford truck to take effect immediately. The list prices, f. o. b. Detroit, are now as follows:

Touring Car	$415	Sedan	$760
Runabout	$370	Chassis	$345
Coupe	$695	Truck Chassis	$495
Tractor	$625

"The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low material costs which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made another price reduction possible immediately.

"Ford business for April and May 1921 was greater by 56,633 cars and trucks than for the same two months in 1920; in fact, the demand has been even greater than the supply, so that our output has been limited, not by unfilled orders but by manufacturing facilities. "During May we produced 101,424 Ford cars and trucks for sale in the United States alone—the biggest month in the history of our company—and our factories and assembly plants are now working on a 4000 car daily schedule for June.

"The Fordson tractor is still being sold at less than the cost to produce on account of the recent big price reductions, and it is impossible, therefore, to make any further cut in the price of the tractor."

Can you afford to go without a car any longer when Fords are selling at these low prices? There is no reason now why you should delay purchasing a Ford car, Ford truck, or Fordson tractor.

We will gladly advise you concerning the delivery of a Fordson tractor or the particular type of car in which you are interested. Phone us or drop us a card.

CARPENTIER WILL HAVE MORE FENCES

More are to be Built to Insure Privacy—Expects to Speed Up Work Beginning Next Week.

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 14.—More high board fences are to be built around the Carpentier camp to insure the challenger's privacy in his workouts, which have entered the serious stage. Manager Descamps found today that the extra policemen he has employed and the fence on the right side of the camp are not sufficient to keep out the curious. When Georges went to the gym this afternoon he saw about 100 men and boys perched in trees in an adjoining field.

This field is not on the property rented by the Carpentier, and when the policemen attempted to chase the determined spectators they were sent away with a laugh whereupon Manager Descamps told Trainer Wilson to order many lengths of board and some carpenters.

A FORMER RESIDENT PASSES THRU

Mr. and Mrs. William McMyrtle of Slater, Missouri, passed thru the city yesterday on their way to Roseville. They had two truck loads of show outfits and are giving performances in various places. Mr. McMyrtle was formerly a cigar-maker in the employ of McCarty & Gebert and is well known to many in Jacksonville.

John Spaenower was up to the city from Pisgah yesterday.

DEMPSEY WILL START REAL WORK THURSDAY

Plans to Resume Full Training Program Including Boxing—Champion is Fretting for Action.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 14.—Jack Dempsey's vacation will end Thursday, his was the announcement of Jack Kearns, manager of the world's heavyweight champion, tonight. Dempsey will resume his full training program putting on the boxing gloves for the first time since a week ago Sunday when his left eyebrow was gashed.

Dempsey has been fretful for the last two days which indicates, according to his handlers that he is getting into condition. Their only trouble from now on will be to keep him in the same mood until he is called into the ring to defend his title against Georges Carpentier at Jersey City, July 2. He looks bigger and stronger than he did when he won the title from Jess Willard, two years ago.

The title holder broke the monotony of his layoff today by going out on the road for seven miles. In the afternoon Dempsey went for a stroll along the beach. The champion was considerably upset by reports circulated that two attaches of his camp had become involved in a cafe brawl which resulted in a riot call for the police. The men involved were not identified with the champion's camp and were not even known to him.

Some new information on the referee situation for the Jersey City contest was obtained today. It was that James F. Dougherty of Philadelphia would be Dempsey's choice. He has referred two contests for Dempsey, the one with Battling Levinsky in Philadelphia and the match with Billy Miske, in Benton Harbor last Labor Day. Both Kearns and Dempsey have faith in Dougherty's ability.

Dempsey will loaf again tomorrow but his sparring partners will work with each other so as to keep in condition.

UNEEDA BATTERY COMPANY
Automobile Supplies and Accessories
508 E. Maine St.

Richmond, Va.,
May 25th, 1921.

Electrolyte Storage Battery Company,
Dear Sirs:

We have put your battery to a pretty hard test. First we burned off 50 penny spikes causing a dead short circuit. However, it did not burn off the second set, but it brought them to a white heat. Then we ran it on a self-starter for 10 minutes. Then we put it in another car that the battery was dead in and started that. We then bucked it against another battery, dead short circuiting one battery against the other. They both got so hot that they had to be handled with pliers.

We took the Electrolyte Battery down while it was so hot that we could not put a finger in the acid. The only way it was damaged was a few pimples on the negative plates, due to the intense heat.

We then put it together again with new 1300 acid and recharged it and it came up to over 1300. Then we put it in a Kline car 6 that our other battery failed to turn fast enough to start when cold. The Electrolyte turned it O. K. We cut off the ignition and put in the first gear and ran it up a 20% grade.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) LeRoy, Sec.

Daily Market Report

STOCK MARKET

RECOVERS SOME
NEW YORK, June 14.—Stocks
today recovered somewhat from their prolonged depression, various speculative favorites extending yesterday's rally by one to three points. Equipments, rubbers, food specialties and some rails, however, lost two to eight points. Sales amounted to 765, 000 shares.

The market's unsettled tone
was laid to the tenuous position
of the short interest. Sentiment was favorably influenced by retention of several important railroad and industrial dividends.
Cash money dropped from six to five and a half per cent for the first time in more than two months.

Postponement of action on the common and preferred shares of Chicago (St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha) and conflicting dividend rumors on Northern Pacific,
Great Northern and New York
Central contributed to the uneven movement of rails. Activity
was confined to the final hour
when an abrupt reaction in Mexican Petroleum, extending to five points induced profit-taking elsewhere and detracted from the strength of the general list.

All the foreign exchanges improved. Sterling rose 2 1/2 cents
above yesterday and there was improvement in Dutch, Swiss,
Italian and Spanish rates.

German and Austrian remittances were firm.

Convertible railway bonds
were aided by the strength of some high grade stocks, notably Pacific and grangers. Liberty
issues were mixed, as were almost of the international floatations. Total sales par value
were $11,675,000.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT MANCHESTER CHURCH

Children of M. E. Church Presented Excellent Program Sunday Evening—Other Manchester News Notes.

Manchester, June 13.—The annual Children's Day program was given at the M. E. church Sunday evening, many of the children of the Sunday school taking part. The program was arranged under the direction of Miss Helen Saye, assisted by Mrs. Priscilla Stephens. Some of the children taking part in the program were not yet four years old and all performed their parts in a most pleasing manner.

"The Masque of Dreams" was especially noteworthy. The vendor of dreams sold dreams for a silver penny. One child asked that she might see fairies and saw a beautiful fairy drill; another wished to hear music and heard birds sing, children singing and a solo by Miss Louise Pearce. A third child desired to see Indiana and her wish was granted. "The Old Woman who lived in a shoe" appeared in answer to the wish of the fourth child.

The program was as follows: Chorus, Awakening Church—School. Invocation—Brother Hostetter. Chorus, Hosannah—School. Piano solo, (A. Mazurka)—Lucille Mellor.

Words of welcome—Freida Lemon. Recitation, When Papa Gets Mad—Hazel Cuddy. Chorus, Sweetest as Years Go By—School.

Recitation—Alden Akers Heat-en. Recitation, The Cat's Cradle—Edith Travis. Recitation, Mother Knows—Fay Roe.

Vocal duet, Wishing Land—Lou Emma and Lucille Wright. Recitation, Troubles—Marjorie Alred. Recitation, It Can Be Done—Aletha Cuddy.

Recitation, A Country Girl—Mary Inez Wright. Vocal solo, Baby's Toys—Hazel Cuddy. Reading, Hello—Edward Akers.

LARGE GATHERING AT CONCORD CHURCH

Anniversary of Rededication of Christian Church Observed On Sunday by Family Gathering—Other News of Interest from Concord.

Concord, June 13.—Saturday, the 11th, was the 10th anniversary of the rededication of the local Christian church. On Sunday the pastor, Mr. Harris, of Decatur, filled his regular appointment morning and evening.

After the 11 o'clock service on Sunday the congregation went from the church to the Ladies Aid hall on West Main street where a bountiful dinner was served. Each family brought well filled baskets so there was plenty for the invited guests. Rev. T. J. Symonds and wife of the M. E. church and Rev. J. L. Wallace and Mrs. Wallace of the M. P. church were among those present.

The oldest members present were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ham who now reside in the village. Mr. Ham was the only charter member present and he recently celebrated his 84th birthday.

Those from Jacksonville present were Mrs. Hester E. Abernathy and daughter, Miss Eva, and Merle Abernathy, a grandson. There were just about 100 who took dinner and enjoyed a quiet social time for about two hours.

The occasion was a very enjoyable one and ought to be repeated each year. A few members of the M. P. and M. E. churches mingled with the assembly and seemed to feel right at home.

Dr. F. B. Fox of Freeberg is visiting his father, G. R. Fox and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Houston of near Joy Prairie Station were calling on Mrs. Houston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rentschler on Sunday evening.

Children's Day was observed at the M. E. church on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wester spent the day at the home of J. G. Wester in the Grace Chapel neighborhood on Sunday.

Loyce Plank had the misfortune to get his new buggy smashed up in a collision with a car in Concord a week ago Sunday night. The young lady with him was slightly hurt. Loyce took the buggy to Hall's to get it repaired.

The St. Paul's Lutheran church southwest here held their annual mission festival on Sunday. The meeting was largely attended by the home members and also by members of the churches of Jacksonville, Arenzville, Neeleyville and another church in the vicinity of Meredosia. Dinner was served on the church lawn. A large tent was rented for the occasion.

Miss Elva Wheeler is recovering from a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Price, mother of Mrs. A. M. Johnson, is recovering from a serious operation.

A young man with a party of campers near Pleasant View school house was taken seriously ill a few days ago and received first aid from Dr. A. M. Johnson. He was then taken to a Jacksonville hospital for treatment.

THRILLING FLOOD EXPERIENCE

William Cafkey, who lives near Florence, Colorado, a place on the Arkansas river, forty miles from Pueblo wrote his father and sister of this city an account of some of the experiences in the great flood.

On the fateful Friday morning he started in his car for Pueblo but hearing the roads were bad and some bridges out he returned to Florence, left his car and went to Pueblo by rail arriving in the last train that made the trip. He went directly to a large hotel, took a room and retired being tired and sleepy.

About 9:30 he heard a swishing swirling sound as of waters flowing near by and rising and looking out he saw water ten feet deep all about the building and no way to get out. There were 25 guests in the hotel and it being large and solid it withstood the flood though it and a Catholic church in the vicinity were the only buildings left intact in that district. He saw smaller houses and all sorts of buildings being washed away and to one structure a man was desperately clinging but the people in the hotel were unable to aid him and didn't know what became of him.

Some of the business houses and dwellings floated against the hotel and a desolate freight car took off a part of the front porch. All the guests thought the building might go at any time but it stood. The night was long and weary; no lights, no water in the mains and all darkness and desolation. The business part of the city was utterly devastated and ruined. About four in the morning they saw the water was beginning to subside somewhat and they were indeed glad.

As Mr. Cafkey's home was on the river he naturally felt very anxious for his family and was not at all reassured by the report that Florence had been swept away, but it proved untrue later after Mr. Cafkey had suffered dreadful suspense.

The evening he arrived in Pueblo he expected to arrive from the University at Boulder a young man and lady, son and daughter of an esteemed friend in Florence, and he naturally was concerned regarding them. They arrived from Boulder on the last train from the north and while in the yards the cars tipped over but the young people managed to climb out and sit on the car in the rain all night. There were eight or ten passengers who did the same and all had a dreary time till morning. In the union station the water was fifteen feet deep.

As soon as he could get out he hastened to seek the young people from Boulder and was relieved to find them all right. That night he spent at the home of Will Mount and had a pleasant visit with Mrs. Lottie Greenleaf.

Sunday he started out and after walking three miles in the mud he met a friend, Mr. Owen, who had a Buick car in which he set out for Florence with high hopes of getting there with his young friends from Boulder but when they reached Beaver Creek, half way to Boulder, they were informed that the Shafer dam had broken and soon a volume of water 35 feet high came tearing down where five feet was a good average depth.

Seeing some people on the other side of the stream Mr. Cafkey wrote a note to his wife who was tormented with anxiety, tied the message to a stone and hurled it across and asked the recipients to deliver it which they did conveying the first word Mrs. Cafkey had received from her husband since his departure from Florence.

Turning about they went along till they came to Dry Creek which at that time was anything but void of water so seeing they were marooned they sought about and found a lone ranch where they secured food and permission for the men to sleep on the floor.

Early Monday morning they set out for Florence and with a rope and pulley were towed across Beaver Creek, a dangerous operation but one that ended all right. On the other side they met the father of the young people and in his car they sped rapidly homeward where they duly arrived tired but glad to be there.

Mr. Cafkey's letter home had to go by way of Salt Lake City and was a long time getting here. It is needless to add that the travelers were glad to get home and thankful that they came out so well.
